JUDGE BUCK TAKES DRASTIC
ACTION IN CONNECTION WITH GRAFT CASES.

JUDGE SWAYNE'S WIDE CHARGE

Tells Grand Jury to Curb His Friends
If They Are Supposed Guilty.

Fort Worth, May 5.—As a sequel to the indictments returned by the grand jury Saturday and the newspaper extras which were on the street announcing the indictment of R. L. Rogers for attempted bribery, before the indictment actually was returned in court, Judge Buck of the Forty-eighth district court this afternoon sent four newspaper men to jail for contempt in refusing to disclose the source of their information.

The men sentenced to an hour each were C. F. Pekar, courthouse reporter of the Star-Telegram; Joe Fox, courthouse reporter for the Record; J. O. Abernathy, assistant managing editor of the Record; and Claude McCaleb, reporter for the Record.

All refused to tell the source of their information. G. K. Shearer of the Star-Telegram, denied receiving information from any court official or member of the grand jury, but refused to tell if any newspaper man had disclosed to him the source of information.

He was exempted from the jail sentence, Judge Buck saying his evidence, if given, would have to be heard in court.

After "Higher-Ups."
District Judge Swayne told his grand jury Monday to get the man higher up in the alleged grafting of county officials, instead of letting the investigation stop with the indictment by the Forty-eighth grand jury that adjourned Saturday night of Robert L. (Bob) Rogers, on a charge of offering bribes to former County Judge Bratton to turn important road and bridge contracts.

He especially instructed his grand jury to investigate reports of grafting among county and city officials and the contract of the Underground Construction company to build the new city reservoir.

"It has gotten so in this city," he said, "that men are afraid to try to get contracts of a public character unless they employ a man who sells his influence."

Judge Swayne organized his grand jury Monday to take up the investigations of graft where the Forty-eighth district grand jury left off. The grand jury organized by electing Marion Sansom foreman and A. L. Shuman secretary. The other members of the grand jury are: J. C. H. J. D. McKnight, George Markham, J. R. Heatley, John Kelley, Ben H. Martin.

SLEEP-TALKING DON'T COUNT

Convicted of Murder on Semnolent Utterances, Man Is Given New Trial.

Denver, May 5.—The supreme court today held that a person may not be convicted of murder by use of his own admissions made while talking in his sleep.

The case of Jose Martinez, convicted of murdering a woman named Fortuna Campbell and sentenced to life imprisonment, was sent back to the district court with instructions to try Martinez again, without permitting the prosecution to introduce Martinez' semnolent testimony.

At Martinez' first trial a jail guard testified Martinez in his sleep repeated "I killed her." Largely through this testimony the man was convicted.

The supreme court ruled the confession of a defendant can be used against him only when given voluntarily and that when the confession is made during sleep it is not voluntary.

Higher Rates Are Necessary, Says Pennsylvania President

Pittsburgh, May 5.—Speaking at a luncheon tendered him today, President Samuel Rea of the Pennsylvania railroad, forecast a general increase in freight rates. He said:

"We find it most difficult for the railroads to raise money for improvements and there is little light ahead. We are asking no favors. All we want is fair play."

The eastern divisions of the Pennsylvania railroad are making less than 5 per cent on their investment. If the company had not been properly managed it would not be paying even this small return.

"We are therefore obliged to look forward to a general increase in rates."

Lovesick Man of 77 Deceives As to Age; Court Upholds Him

Kansas City, May 5.—When a man 77 years old writes love letters, the fact does not constitute evidence of mental incapacity.

Judge Ellison laid down that ruling in the Kansas court of appeals today. The case was one in which a son sought to break his father's will.

In the love letters the writer said he was only 65 years old.

Judge Ellison held that this misrepresentation had nothing to do with the case.

The fact that he was able to deceive, the judge said, argued that he was in possession of his faculties.

Blackhand Full of Bullets, Caught

Redding, Cal., May 5.—With bullet wounds in the leg and hand, Pietro Lessore, who escaped after a rifle battle with a sheriff's posse Sunday night, was arrested in Sisson today.

He was a member of a gang of alleged blackhanders who were intercepted by the authorities as they were about to dynamite a house in which two women and eight children were sleeping.

"The Paper Box Kid" Wanted By Police

New York, May 5.—A countryside alarm was sent out today for the arrest of Albrecht Sheldiano, "the paper box kid" gangster, ex-convict and alleged murderer of John Rezo and two policemen in Mulberry street late Saturday night.

A half dozen Easy Side gangsters told stories today which resulted in a murder charge being placed against him.

He has fled the city.

Sits Down While He Addresses Court

Washington, May 5.—Precedents governing the conduct of attorneys before the supreme court were brushed aside today to permit Roderolph H. Gilmore of Denver, to make an argument while sitting down.

Gilmore, a staunch supporter of Blaine in the presidential campaign of 1884, was overcome while making a stump speech, and never since that day has he made a speech while standing.

37 Year-old Edison Suit Is Dismissed

Washington, May 5.—After being in the courts 37 years, the suit of Thomas A. Edison and others against the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph company and the suit of Jay Gould for alleged infringement of patents relating to the quadruplex telegraph, was ended today when the supreme court dismissed the Edison appeal.

Victoria Taken By Constitutionalists.
Two American Railway Men Reported Slain.

Washington, May 5.—Reports from Mexico City today estimated that 1500 lives have been lost in engagements outside of Sonora during the past week.

The reports confirmed the blowing up of a railroad bridge by Zapatistas at Nopantla, when 150 persons were killed.

It was said that the federal forces have driven Zapata from his stronghold at Chinameca and are pressing him hard.

Matchuala, recently under siege, is again isolated and Americans have been advised by their employers to leave, as anti-American feeling runs high.

Two Americans Killed.

Nogales, Ariz., May 5.—Fighting continued throughout the afternoon between the advance of the federals from Guaymas and the state troops below Ortiz. Indications were that the federal troops had been repulsed, although taking the aggressive in the fighting.

The telegraph line has been cut below Ortiz and efforts to reach Guaymas by wireless failed.

Two American railway men were reported killed in yesterday's fighting.

Victoria Is Captured.

Brownsville, May 5.—Victoria, capital of Tamaulipas, was taken with little resistance this morning by 1300 constitutionalists, according to a report received here today.

The constitutionalists were under command of Generala Lucio Blanco, Luis Blanco and Santiago de Leon.

Railroad and telegraphic communication between Brownsville and Monterrey is again shut down with the reported destruction of a bridge 49 miles north of Monterrey.

Eagle Pass, May 5.—It is reported in Piedras Negras tonight that after the fall of Victoria, Generala constitutionalists on Friday General Truicy Aubert fell back toward Monterrey with his force depleted to 400 men.

The constitutionalists have torn up the tracks of the Mexican International railway, north as far as Bocaoncoche, about 15 miles south of Monclova.

IN QUEST OF "LOST" CONVICTS

Indeterminate Sentence Committee Begins Preliminary Work at Austin Meeting.

Austin, May 5.—The "Indeterminate sentence committee," appointed by the legislature to seek out the "lost" convicts confined in the state penitentiary and make recommendations to the governor for pardons, met here today and began the preliminary work of organization.

All members of the committee, except Representative W. L. Hill of Huntsville, were present. Announcement was made that Representative Hill would not meet with the committee in Austin. He thinks it unnecessary, as nearly all the principal work of the investigation is to be done at Huntsville, and there Mr. Hill will join the committee.

The members of the committee present were: Lieutenant Governor Mayes, who is ex-officio chairman; Senator F. C. Weiner of Seguin, recently appointed secretary of state by the governor; Representative D. M. Reed of Smith county, and George Waverly Briggs of Dallas.

Diamond Broker in San Francisco
Loses $1615 Cash and $4000
in Gems.

San Francisco, May 5.—Herman Saxe, a diamond broker, was shot and seriously wounded today in his store by a robber, who fled before the crime was discovered, taking $1615 in cash and diamonds worth $4,000.

Saxe was alone in the store when a man entered and asked to see a diamond ring. As the broker reached into a case for a tray the man stepped into the office at the end of the counter, opened the door in Saxe's desk and took the proprietor's revolver from it.

The next moment Saxe fell to the floor with a bullet wound over his heart.

Saxe was found soon afterward, surrounded by evidences of a hasty robbery.

The broker has a chance of recovery.

Labor Leader Who Gets Modification of His Punishment

SAMUEL GOMPERS.

LABOR LEADER'S TERM IN JAIL
30 DAYS IN CONTEMPT
CASE.

COURT OF APPEALS ACTION

Mitchell and Morrison Each Fined
$500—Case of Buck's Rugs
Company.

Washington, May 5.—Contempt of court judgments against Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, for their violation of a court injunction in the noted Bucks stove and range case, were affirmed today by the district court of appeals, but the jail sentences imposed were held to have been too severe; so the court reduced Gompers' sentence from one year to thirty days and decreed Mitchell and Morrison should merely be fined $500 each.

The lower court sentenced Mitchell to nine months and Morrison to six. The supreme court of the United States undoubtedly will be asked again to review the decision.

Unlike previous decisions in this case, which have been unanimously against the labor leaders, the court of appeals was divided.

Chief Justice Sheppard dissented; held that the whole decision should be reversed; that contempt of a federal court was a criminal offense and that the statute of limitations had run in the case.

Justice V. Orsini, who concurred in the majority opinion, held that the refusal of Mitchell to assure the lower court of his intention to obey the mandate of inferior courts in the future was "important in measuring the intent and temper of the respondents."

An appeal from the decision today will be taken to the supreme court of the United States if the attorneys for the labor leader can find grounds to ask the court to review the case.

On a previous appeal to the supreme court the judgment was effectively dismissed and the contempt proceedings were brought all over again.

In the previous action the decision of the court below holding the men in contempt was unanimous. The dissent was by Justice Brandeis.

WILLIAM YOUNG, SOMERS SYSTEM EXPERT, FINISHES HIS WORK FOR THE CITY.

BIG INCREASE OVER THE ASSESS-MENTS NOW ON ROLLS.

Work Has Been Thorough and Has Been Done Quickly—Personal Property to Be Added.

The full value of the lands, the buildings and the franchises and easements in the city of Waco are fixed by the Somers system at $37,289,488. This does not include personal property.

The tax rolls of the city now carry assessed values of real property at $19,443,055 and assessed values of personal property at $6,949,925, being a total assessed value now of $26,392,980.

William Young, Somers system expert, who had been under contract with the city to install that system of equalization, yesterday closed his work and the books are ready to be turned over to the city at the meeting of the commission this morning when the final report will be made. Mr. Young, however, will return later in the year to sit with the board of equalization. The totals as shown by the report are as follows:

Total value of lands in city $23,653,742
Total value of all buildings 13,275,746
Franchise or easement value 353,300

Total values $37,289,488

In the past it has been the policy of the board of equalization to carry all assessments at two-thirds of the full value. If the assessment values this year are carried on the rolls at two-thirds of the full value given above, as fixed by the Somers system, it will give an assessed value of lands and buildings at $24,624,124, against a third value last year of $19,443,055. To the amount of $24,624,124 for lands and buildings, which was carried on the rolls as a two-thirds value of the full value fixed by the Somers system will be added the full value assessments of the franchises and easements that is fixed at $353,300, and the personal property is yet to be fixed. Last year it was carried on the tax rolls at $6,949,925.

Values of Franchises.

The taxing of the franchises and easements of public service corporations, however, is a new feature of taxation in Waco. These values have not heretofore been carried on the rolls. The list as fixed here is as follows:

Southern Traction Co.	$160,000
Texas Power & Light Co.	90,000
Southwestern Tel. Co.	15,000
Brazos Valley Tel. Co.	15,000
Western Union Tel. Co.	6,000
Postal Tel. Co.	6,000
Mackey Tel. Co.	6,000
S. A. & A. P. Ry. Co.	6,000
M. K. & T. Ry. Co.	26,000
St. Louis & S. W. Ry. Co.	21,000
Houston & Texas Central	1,000
I. & G. N. Ry. Co.	800
Texas Central Ry. Co.	500
Totals	$353,300

Many of these corporations have valuable rights in Houston, Galveston and Beaumont, where the Somers system has already been installed. These rights have already been installed. The franchise rights to the taxation there of the franchise rights without a protest and it is assumed they will do so in Waco.

At Galveston the street car system is owned by Stone & Webster, and the franchise rights there are fixed at $250,000 against the Southern Traction company values in Waco at $160,000, but it is explained that Galveston has much more double track than has Waco, and this makes the rights there more valuable.

Comparison of Gas and Light Values.

The gas and electric light franchises in Galveston are fixed at $112,000.

Eighteen lady supervisors of girls' canning clubs maintained in the field jointly by the extension department of the A. and M. College and by the United States department of agriculture are in attendance for the four days' session.

The workers adopted as their slogan today "More gardens and orchards and more canned fruits and vegetables on the pantry shelves in country homes."

Practical demonstrations in canning will be conducted tomorrow by C. M. Evans of the A. and M. College and I. W. Hill of the United States department of agriculture.

Husband Is Killed By Artist Sweetheart of His Young Wife

Chicago, May 5.—Joseph A. Williams was recommended to be held to the grand jury without bail for the killing of Leon Lafayette LaCount, at the end of the coroner's inquest today. Williams, an art student, shot LaCount when the latter attacked him for attentions to Mrs. LaCount.

The testimony developed that LaCount had spent only a few days with his 17-year-old bride before he went to his duty as government inspector on the Panama canal and that improper conduct, if any, between Williams and Mrs. LaCount, took place on only one occasion when they knew the husband's return was imminent and they did not expect to see each other again.

To spare the young widow embarrassment all persons but the jurors and the witnesses were excluded from the court room when Mrs. LaCount told of her last meeting with Williams.

Mrs. LaCount told of her secret marriage in February and of her husband's departure two days later. She met Williams, she said, in the latter part of February at a dance hall.

Mrs. LaCount told of other dances, calls and walks with Williams. Williams declined to testify.

Mrs. LaCount gave way to hysteria when the verdict was returned.

Arizona Passes Alien Land Bill Far More Drastic Than One In California.

Washington, May 5.—The Japanese embassy was supplied by the state department today with a copy of the alien land holding bill passed by the California legislature and the ambassador will employ the time between now and Secretary Bryan's return to Washington in preparing a formal protest against the measure.

Apparently, the embassy has no hope that any word President Wilson may send after Secretary Bryan returns will influence Governor Johnson to withhold his signature from the act, so the only purpose of the protest will be to acquaint the American people with the Japanese contention and if possible to have the executive branch of the government endeavor to nullify the action of the California legislature.

The embassy will make known the ground of its protest in a diplomatic note to Secretary Bryan. It is well understood that to settle the question, no matter what may be the point of objection, will require the action of the United States courts, and much consideration must be given to the procedure to be followed in arranging for a judicial test of the California law. It will be for Secretary Bryan to determine whether the United States government itself shall become a party to a suit of this character, in the capacity of an intervenor.

In Delicate Fix.

International lawyers hint that the administration is in an exceedingly delicate position for the reason that while, apparently, a champion of the Japanese through the secretary of state before the California legislature, probably from this point on it must defend the California law against Japan in the diplomatic struggle about to begin.

"If the department should adopt the California contention that the land law does not violate the existing treaty with Japan, then it might feel bound to refuse to submit the issue to arbitration by the Hague tribunal."

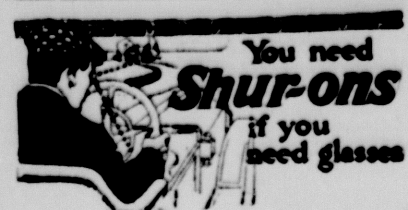

Furthermore, it is contended that the United States government would probably be unable to enforce the decree of the tribunal in case it should be adverse to California, if the American courts should then state that within its rights in enacting the law.

No case has yet been found where the supreme court has passed upon the relative force of a treaty which invades the reserved constitutional powers of a sovereign state and of a conflicting law of such state.

So the state department has nothing to guide it in that direction and probably must establish a precedent in disposing of this issue.

Other Treaties Broken.

It developed today that as a result of the centering of attention upon the California situation, diplomatic representatives in Washington have been over alleged violations of treaties by many states of the Union.

Violations are said to have occurred, particularly in connection with cases involving the disposition of property of aliens who have died intestate in this country, and in which local state courts have taken jurisdiction in defiance of treaties.

Altogether, there are indications of a feeling of unrest that may lead to demands on the national government which could not be complied with without a general rearrangement of the functions of the state governments, so far as they concern aliens.

Ban on in Arizona.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 5.—To take the place of the enforced measure enacted a year ago, the lower house of the state legislature passed an anti-alien ownership bill today that is far more drastic than the California legislation on the same subject.

The act prohibits any alien who has not declared intention to become a citizen, from acquiring title to real property.

Opponents of the bill who wanted to exempt foreigners who were eligible to citizenship, but did not care to forego allegiance to their native land, were able to muster but six opposing votes.

The bill was sent to the senate, where prospects point to an early passage.

Tokio, May 5.—Announcement of the final passage of the alien land ownership bill by the California legislature, has not created any excitement in Tokio.

SENATOR WORKS SCORES JOHN D.

PLAYS OIL KING IN EFFORT TO INCORPORATE ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION.

WOULD REFUSE TAINTED COIN

"Our Children Should Not Be Taught the Ways and Methods of Rockefeller."

Washington, May 5.—Efforts in congress to incorporate the $100,000,000 Rockefeller foundation were scored today by Senator Works, who declared them a "proposal to farm out to John D. Rockefeller and his associates the right and power to educate the people of the country with money accumulated by criminal means."

Sensor Works statement was made in connection with a speech he delivered in the senate today on trusts and combinations, the existence of which he blamed to the high protective tariff policy.

"The extent to which this may be carried out is practically unlimited. The corporations and institutions of the learning which may be established throughout the country in the hands of people who will be subservient to the interests and views of Mr. Rockefeller and his associates are without number or limitation," said the senator.

"We do not want our children to be taught the way nor the methods of John D. Rockefeller or his kind, nor to be generous with ill-gotten gains, nor to touch, handle, or profit by gold that should blister the fingers of the man who has accumulated it by extortion, oppression, and crime, and is now attempting to rid himself of it by giving it away, nor to become the recipients of stolen goods in the name and under the guise of charity."

The continued existence of trusts and monopolies, the senator said, was due to the inadequacy of the Sherman antitrust law, which he declared should be so amended that specific restraints of trade shall be unlawful, with suitable punishment for those who violate the law. While he was not in favor of a high protective tariff which fostered capitalistic combination he said he would be in favor of an effort to protect the wage earner in his earnings and that he believed it would be "an excellent thing to harmonize the tariff and wages."

To Determine Wages. "The interstate commerce commission," continued the senator, "should be allowed to determine whether fair wages are being paid by any concern; and if not, to compel the employer to employ his laborers and paying European wages, to pay the same tariff on its manufactured goods that are enforced against foreign importations, until its wages are increased to a fair scale for American workmen."

"If a high tariff did in fact protect the wage earner, I would cheerfully stand for its continuance, even at the expense of higher prices to the consumer. The evident purpose of the so-called tariff experts is, so far as progress has been made, to deprive the farmers, who are themselves laboring men and wage earners in most cases, of all protection and preserve it to the trust and millionaire manufacturers."

A Fatal Mistake. "This would be a fatal mistake. In most cases our manufacturers and business men can compete with the world and make profits. They can and do sell their goods cheaper in foreign markets than at home. With the farmer, in many cases, it is different."

The wage earner must be protected in his earnings and reasonable hours of labor, the consumer in reasonable prices, and the whole people must be protected in their independence and liberty. The equality of all men must be made a reality and not a theory.

"If the Democratic party can and will accomplish these results, demanded by the people, it may live and maintain itself in power. If it does not, its reign will be brief."

"Neither of the old parties can or will restore the government to the people as our forefathers handed it down, then a new party will be raised up that will do the people's will. It will be a party of the people's own making, founded on justice, fair dealing, and disinterested patriotism. I am ready to give the Democratic party a fair trial."

"I am willing to wait and see, and to lend my aid to that party or any other to bring about just and beneficial laws through and by which the whole people may be brought into their own and their just rights fostered and protected."

Judge Wayne's charge in full is as follows:

Gentlemen of the Grand Jury: If you were taken on a jury in a civil or criminal case, you would be sworn to abide by the charge of the court and the evidence given by the witnesses. As grand jurors you do not have to do what I tell you to do; my charge to you is only advisory; I have no right to keep you from investigating anything; I can advise you not to take up certain matters if as a matter of policy I thought it best. I believe a grand jury ought to protect the innocent as well as find bills against the guilty. See that no indictment is brought against a man unless there is sufficient evidence to convict him. Some things are violations of law and some are not.

For many years in cities like Fort Worth and in the state of Texas there has been graft going on. I want you to look into that. Sometimes it is violation of the law and sometimes it is not. The grafter, to my mind, is a leech on society; he lives off his influence and power. When contract are to be let his influence is for sale. I do not mean to say that when a man desires a contract he has not the right to go out and employ counsel to go before any kind of board to represent his interests; that is right and his duty if he so desires.

Becomes More Dangerous. And when grafting becomes respectable it becomes more dangerous. Map in high places and high power fall line and attract other men; man after man comes into the circle and his influence and power are added toward getting contracts let.

Now, gentlemen, investigate and see whether or not in the grafting which have been made respectable are in the city of Fort Worth, whether or not the grafters themselves have not gone so far that they have violated the law. It is rumored over the county, and I do not know whether it is true or not, that influential men in this drawn together in a solid phalanx and drawn together in a solid phalanx and have agreed among themselves to get contracts for some people, irrespective of how they get them. If they have an agreement to bribe any officer of this county I want you to return an indictment against them for conspiracy. Conspiracy is an agreement between two or more parties to commit a crime. If two or more people in Tarrant county, I do not care how high their standing, got together and agreed that some one man was to go to some county commissioner to influence him in the letting of a contract and that he must offer to that commissioner some money, each one of these is guilty of a penitentiary offense, because bribery or attempting to bribe is a penitentiary, and when they do this, each and every one of them, each and every one shall commit a crime is guilty of a penitentiary offense.

Who to Blame. When they say to you that all this talk and investigation injures Tarrant county, say to them it was not the grand jury that injured Tarrant county; it was not the charge of the court that injured Tarrant county; it was the man who violated the law who did the injury. The publication of a wrong is not what injures the county; it is the doing of the wrong; and the only thing that will put this county on a proper basis is for a grand jury with strong and intelligent men, men with backbone to do right, to find bills against wrongdoers, it matters not whom.

Take the public into your confidence; they are entitled to know what is going on in this county. We have had a stain on our city here a short time ago when $500,000 of bonds were issued, and they say the money has largely been wasted. Go and investigate the reservoir; see where that money has gone. See who the Underground Construction company is. Go look at all of these men that have bid on bridges and public roads. Investigate and see who comprise those companies; find out the good and the bad. Tarrant county is entitled to your protection. This is the most important grand jury Tarrant county has ever had and much depends on your actions. See if you can find out where the $500,000 of city bonds have gone. We have had a bond issue here of $1,600,000.

He Feared Scandal. I was almost tempted to vote against that bond issue because I feared some scandal against our country; and that scandal has come: I want you to investigate that scandal; clear it up, if you can and be brave enough to be returned; where they are innocent, no matter what the public expects, be brave enough to say there was no evidence against them. Clear the innocent officer against whom there is suspicion; if he is guilty, then take the public into your confidence and return a bill of indictment. It is your duty when your term of office expires to make a written report and let the public know what has been done.

I have heard criticisms against men who have been my best and dearest friends; men who have been at my back all my life; but, gentlemen, if they fall under the ban, then let your findings be represented by a bill of indictment; if they are not guilty, then make your report in accordance. I believe the innocent should be protected by the report of this grand jury. Take the public into your confidence. Some of the men under suspicion of graft, as I have said, are friends of mine, and have been for many years; as judge of this court, I ask that an investigation be made of them as a matter of justice, as a member of society I ask that an investigation be made so that if they are guilty an indictment may be returned; as their friend I ask that an investigation be made so that if they are innocent your report will so say to the world.

JACK JOHNSON JURY IS FILLED

12 Men Accepted By Government—The Maximum Penalty Is 45 Years and $50,000 Fine.

Chicago, May 5.—Twelve Jurymen to try Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, on a charge of violating the Mann "white slave" act, had been selected by the government when the first day of the trial ended tonight. None of the panel had been accepted by the defense. Johnson is charged with having transported Belle Schrieber from Pittsburgh to Chicago for immoral purposes in 1910.

Counsel for Johnson, it is said, will seek to bar from the jury those who admit having convictions against the marriage of white women to negroes. J. E. Johnson and A. E. Peck of Aurora, the first two men examined, were excused promptly when both declared they had decided opinions as to Johnson's guilt and strong convictions as to the punishment they would mete out to him.

Lucille Mason Johnson, the fighter's second wife, did not appear in court and it was said counsel for Johnson will keep her from the court room unless she is called upon to testify.

There are 45 counts in the nine indictments against Johnson, the maximum penalty collectively being 45 years in the penitentiary or a fine of $50,000, or both.

N. Y. WOMAN LIES FOR SON

Perjures Herself, Then Confesses. Offspring Will Be Executed This Month.

New York, May 5.—It is all over with "Happy Jack" Mulroney. He must die for the murder of "Paddy the Priest." His application for a new trial was denied today by Judge Rosalsky, who has been taking testimony to determine whether Mulroney could make good his claim that he was the victim of the underworld's code which bans "squealing" on a pal.

"Happy Jack," who was granted a sixty-day reprieve by Governor Sulzer, changed his story time after time and finally said he had been lying and he was ready to take his "medicine."

He relied largely on his aged mother to establish an alibi. She swore he was at home in bed, helplessly drunk on the night of the murder.

Today the feeble old woman broke down and admitted to the district attorney that this story was untrue. She perjured herself, she said, to save her boy.

Mulroney will be executed during the week of May 15.

POE'S TAVERN IS TO BE RAZED

King's Bridge Motel, Landmark for 100 Years, Site for Ball Park.

Tavern, a landmark of 100 years standing, and a resort where Edgar Allen Poe used to wait for his manuscript to come back from unappreciative editors, is about to give way to the march of progress.

It is on the site of what will be the new American League baseball park last summer at 22nd street and Broadway, and today a gang of laborers took possession of the old tavern. Efforts of Poe's admirers to preserve the old tavern for its historical interest failed.

According to two English investigators heating soil by steam before planting seeds increases its food value, plants raised thereon blossom earlier and produce more and better fruit.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The free list of the Underwood tariff bill, with its Democratic promises of reductions in the cost of living, furnished the gist for the legislative mills of the house today.

Through a monotonous session the Republicans, weary by the persistence with which the Democrats rejected all amendments, made perfunctory attempts to place on the dutiable list articles the Underwood bill would admit free.

There was little of a real struggle about the Republicans' efforts, however, and only a few minor amendments proposed by the ways and means committee Democrats were adopted.

While the house dragged along through the bill, the senate finance committee made its plans for considering the bill when it shall have passed the house. It was decided not to hold oral hearings on the various schedules, but to accept and consider any bills that might be submitted by those interested in the tariff.

Ruin for Industries. In the house Republicans attacked a majority of the hundreds of paragraphs in the lengthy free list. In almost every instance they argued that admission of the various articles free would "ruin industry" and would not reduce the cost of living. Majority Leader Underwood pointed out that this argument was inconsistent.

"In order to ruin the industries," he said, "we have gentlemen seen bound to do, it would be necessary to reduce the price the producers receive. This would inevitably result in a reduction to the consumer."

To eliminate unnecessary debate Mr. Underwood, after the free list had been about one-half completed, moved to pass the paragraphs which were not in controversy, without debate. The disputed paragraphs were then taken up in order.

Republican opposition centered about the paragraphs admitting free of duty coal, iron ore and cotton, wool, wheat, wheat flour, corn, buckwheat, macaroni and print paper, meats, lumber, leather, potatoes, works of art, fish, steel rails, barbed wire and dairy products. All of the amendments offered were argued in a more or less perfunctory fashion, and the sweltering majority forced to remain in their seats in the hall where the temperature soared, dropped each succeeding Republican proposition in a deluge of "noes."

Row Over Bibles. An unsuccessful effort was made by Representative Moore of Pennsylvania to have Bibles taken from the free list. He said tribute to the scriptures, but said he saw no reason why Bibles of foreign manufacture should be admitted free of duty for sale in this country.

Representative Stevens of Minnesota wanted harness and saddlery put on the dutiable list, and Representative Garner of Massachusetts and others sought to impose duty on boots and shoes. This brought Representative Peters of Massachusetts to his feet with a declaration that free boots and shoes would place the American shoe industry on a better basis than ever before.

Meat Inspection. At the night session the Democrats rejected an amendment offered by Representative Goode of Iowa to provide for antemortem inspection of foreign meats. Free listing meat, Mr. Goode pointed out, would repeal the

FREE LIST NOW UP IN THE HOUSE

REPUBLICANS ARE WEARY OF FUTILE ATTEMPTS AT GETTING AMENDMENTS.

BIBLES ARE IN THE MILL

Discussion of Other Items Will Be Resumed at Session This Morning.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The free list of the Underwood tariff bill, with its Democratic promises of reductions in the cost of living, furnished the gist for the legislative mills of the house today.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ARE AGAIN REMINDED
Now that the Colonial Dame prize has created pleasurable interest among the high school students, why not that same interest be extended to the next prize award—that of the Mary West chapter, Daughters of the Colonial Dames? This will be given the fifteenth of May, so the contestants have no time to lose. The subjects and the prize, with other details, have already been announced, both through the press and at the school. Should any desire further information, this can be had from Mrs. Araminta Branson, either phone 1958, or from the president of the Mary West chapter, Mrs. Edith Lessing.

THE CITY FEDERATION TALKS WOMAN'S DAY
Already, though in quite an informal way, the club women are discussing their next day at the Cotton Palace. The first formal parade was altogether impromptu. Yet, it was such a success in its spirit of cooperation that the women feel the second will be something really worthy of the day. All the organizations fell into line of the club women's lead. It is assured that they will do so again. It is expected that every organization in this city where women are members will be represented by some handsome device which bespeaks its purpose. Last season, A. woman's day was proposed too late for preparation. It is now the accepted time. So, why not every one be on the alert in reading, in summer travel, in personal ingenuity, to make every float or other device worthy the Waco women. Let us say something which can be advertised and bring all the women from the surrounding country to Waco for Woman's day. There is the prospect that all the prominent club women of the state can be induced to spend the day here. Also, there is strong possibility that some of the women of national repute will be Waco's guest. This is only the impetus now. Much must come from it. It is now only for the women to put on their thinking caps for ideas to elaborate nearer Cotton Palace dates.

DIVERSITY OF WOMAN IN THIS PRESENT DAY

The other day the writer happened to find in her mail a half sheet clipped from a copy of the Los Angeles Times. The sender, by the way, known to many in this city, Mrs. M. W. Sims, of Bryan, who is spending the winter in California. Aside from the interest in the subjects, the writer was first of all, impressed with the scope of woman's study today. Woman seems interested in everything. California women are no different from other women. Should the same department have been clipped from an eastern paper, doubtless the same condition would be found. This half sheet was the department devoted to the women's clubs. And this is what they are studying in one season out in Los Angeles. One club met for a travel morning in Dresden and Nuremberg. Specimens of art from these places were used for illustration and the guests with the speaker went through the shops, parks, art galleries and so on. The next club listened to a paper comparing the press, the pulpit and the school as educational forces in our daily life, or rather influences. The third club presented a famous concert singer in program. Over in another part of the city, the women assembled to hear a well known educator from a German university compare the systems of education in the two countries. Another program went back to the history and the learning in the middle ages. A college club gave a grand old floor program on California folk lore, the songs, dances, and such of the Indians who first settled the country. Prominent was "Indian Springtime." Still another club spent a morning in study of drama, its form, meaning, and present day tendency. The Bible was on the other program where religious music was introduced. A cooking school lesson demonstrated "deep fat frying." An annual luncheon, all sociability, was the order of one club. A teachers' club was in session with a program suited to the mothers.

Now, what is your criticism, my reader? I hope you are a man, for then you must admit that a woman's club is not the work of a mental devil. Is any one of these subjects unworthy the attention of good, progressive women? We are sure not. And what is here told of the California clubs, may be told any week of those in Texas.

MRS. POWERS AT THE HUACO FOR LARGE BRIDGE PARTY
It would seem that society is to reserve Saturday for matinee bridge at the Huaco club from the two large and brilliant functions which have transpired there with the two past Saturday evenings. In the latter, Mrs. J. J. Powers was hostess under delightful conditions. She had two matrons from other places as her guests of honor; also, she introduced Mrs. Tillar James as a matron newly added to Waco society. No hostess in all Waco is more delicate in her taste nor more genial in her hospitality than is Mrs. Powers. There is refined charm in all she does. This followed in the disposition of her special touches in baskets and vases about the club rooms which received and detained her company for her bridge game. All the season's flowers were utilized. In the dining room to which the players adjourned to meet a number of late callers, there was the disposition of pink in rose and maline about the two small tables, sandwiches on one and the punch bowl on the other. Dainty seats and chairs passed by a dainty little girl, Helen Adele James. Mrs. Powers mingled among her guests as they played. She was attentive in introductions to her honor guests, as the first and the later arrivals were made. She made all feel that the pleasure was hers in having their presence. The four favors were a pearl mounted short hat pin for each of the honorees, a basket jardiniere for Mrs. Jack Ray, and a summer parasol for Mrs. H. C. Wingo. Fully one hundred, principally matrons, enjoyed this beautiful card courtesy from Mrs. Powers. Her guests included: Mesdames Frank Egger, Marie Holway, Erwin Clark, George Tod, R. T. Telle, Stark West, J. M. McCutcheon, W. H. Penland, Edward Marshall, R. S. Lazenby, George McGhee, Thomas McCullough, M. L. Landon, H. James, W. Davidson, S. E. Society Notes.

Mrs. Lee Daniel, who has spent several weeks with her mother, Mrs. W. H. Jenkins, is leaving within the next few days for an extended sojourn in St. Louis.

One of the Dallas events in near prospect which interests Wacoans is the formal housewarming which Rev. Wend and Mrs. George Truett will have. They are now in a handsome new home, Munger place, the gift of admiring friends of Dr. Truett.

The Woman's Working society of the First Presbyterian church is employing odd moments in the making of men's ties. They are selling some left-over rag rugs, and otherwise fulfilling the word "working" in their title. This is the society which gave the peas at a cost of thirteen hundred dollars to their new church.

Is it not somewhat rude to turn about the score cards in a tray which is presented? What matters which table you draw, and what matters with whom you play? The hostess has planned, and she has invited the guests she desires. It is the duty of everyone who receives her hospitality to conform to her arrangements. This is the rule of the score card, is anything but well bred. And yet it occurs at every card matinee. Wonder what the visitors think?

One by one the clubs close. At its meeting on Tuesday the Current Event will arrange for its final session, a social afternoon. The Press club is finished. The Shakespeare is arranging for the rich pretensions of the club closings. The Woman's club has yet to come. The Literary ends with Saturday. The Emersons have yet their picnic lunch. The Review continues but another meeting and then something with invited guests. The Entertainers are arranging the program for the spring social. The Round Table will have social session. This ends the year.

The fashion books are now being scanned for the very latest in the graduation gown. Let this be, as it always has, simple, yet fresh, and stylishly set. Frills and furbelows are never for the "sweet girl graduate."

If any woman drives to the fountain on the square and finds an insufficient flow of water, if she will call the janitor from the city hall and request him to turn on a better flow, this will be done, and many thirsty horses relieved by the act.

Study how to hang a picture, and which subject is suitable for which room. Unless its environment accords, the beauty of the picture or its frame is marred.

What a week is before society! Something special every day, in addition to the many club meetings. Also sufficient by way of extra to multiply engagements to two and three a day.

The poppy gardens of Miss Decca Lamar West on the South Side, and of Mrs. Richard Munroe on Grand Heights, are examples of the success which may be attained in poppy culture in Waco. The women, many of them, are hoping to see this possibility extend to the city parks. Nothing is more effective than the brilliant poppy bed for early spring, provided the beds are properly sowed and cultivated.

Again, now that the children are to have their story hours in Cameron park, do remind the little folks and tell them to remind others, to treat the animals kindly. Try to have them gentle. They are placed in the parks for the pleasure of the little folks, and they must be encouraged to remain.

We are to have several at homes within the coming week. Suppose we do not litter the front yards with the tissues from our cards.

Always reply to an invitation in the form in which it is sent. If by hand, direct on receipt; if by post, return answer by post.

Let it be said over and over again, the women who instruct their maids to answer telephone calls should follow this instruction by telling these maids what the proper conduct at the telephone should be.

Really, we wonder what becomes of all the flowers from the parties. We feel sure that many of them find their way to the cemetery. Some, perhaps, to the beds at the hospitals, especially those in the free wards. Others might go to friends who illness detained from the party. Do whatever it be, do something so others shall enjoy

A Display of Silk Worms at Work in the Sanger Show Windows.

A complete colony of silk worms at work in the windows of the Sanger Store affords one of the most interesting and attractive displays ever attempted here. The worms are shown in all the different stages passed through before the cocoon stage. Silk is ready for the manufacturers. Yesterday the worms were still feeding and by tonight they will begin to spin. In the window are orange and mulberry leaves, upon which the worms feed, making a pretty scene. This is the most interesting stage of the life of the silkworm. Before the busy little workers weave for themselves the cocoons from which they never emerge, they throw out what is known as "spun silk" after being manufactured. This will be a beautiful sight when all the worms begin to spin. They will be kept in the window until Saturday, when it is expected that all the cocoons will be completed and in readiness to send to the manufacturer. School children especially are interested in the display. But few window displays ever elicited the attraction here that this one at the Sanger Store has. It is well worth the time spent for all to visit the Sanger Store and watch the wonderful works of nature.

one who receives her hospitality to conform to her arrangements. This is the rule of the score card, is anything but well bred. And yet it occurs at every card matinee. Wonder what the visitors think?

One by one the clubs close. At its meeting on Tuesday the Current Event will arrange for its final session, a social afternoon. The Press club is finished. The Shakespeare is arranging for the rich pretensions of the club closings. The Woman's club has yet to come. The Literary ends with Saturday. The Emersons have yet their picnic lunch. The Review continues but another meeting and then something with invited guests. The Entertainers are arranging the program for the spring social. The Round Table will have social session. This ends the year.

The fashion books are now being scanned for the very latest in the graduation gown. Let this be, as it always has, simple, yet fresh, and stylishly set. Frills and furbelows are never for the "sweet girl graduate."

If any woman drives to the fountain on the square and finds an insufficient flow of water, if she will call the janitor from the city hall and request him to turn on a better flow, this will be done, and many thirsty horses relieved by the act.

What a week is before society! Something special every day, in addition to the many club meetings. Also sufficient by way of extra to multiply engagements to two and three a day.

The poppy gardens of Miss Decca Lamar West on the South Side, and of Mrs. Richard Munroe on Grand Heights, are examples of the success which may be attained in poppy culture in Waco. The women, many of them, are hoping to see this possibility extend to the city parks. Nothing is more effective than the brilliant poppy bed for early spring, provided the beds are properly sowed and cultivated.

Again, now that the children are to have their story hours in Cameron park, do remind the little folks and tell them to remind others, to treat the animals kindly. Try to have them gentle. They are placed in the parks for the pleasure of the little folks, and they must be encouraged to remain.

We are to have several at homes within the coming week. Suppose we do not litter the front yards with the tissues from our cards.

Always reply to an invitation in the form in which it is sent. If by hand, direct on receipt; if by post, return answer by post.

Let it be said over and over again, the women who instruct their maids to answer telephone calls should follow this instruction by telling these maids what the proper conduct at the telephone should be.

Really, we wonder what becomes of all the flowers from the parties. We feel sure that many of them find their way to the cemetery. Some, perhaps, to the beds at the hospitals, especially those in the free wards. Others might go to friends who illness detained from the party. Do whatever it be, do something so others shall enjoy the beauties of blossom as well as the friendship thought.

Surely we are not complaining of this delightful springtime. We have seldom had one more acceptable.

Mrs. Powers introduced the Dorothy Perkins at her card matinee. We feel relieved, for we feared this little bad lady from Ohio had come into neglect after her general popularity last spring.

The Theatres

St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.
Interest is pronounced in the engagement of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra which is to be heard here on the evening of May 7, at the Auditorium. The fame of the organization which Conductor Zach has brought to such a high degree of merit, and its rivals are extremely few. It has always been the aim of this distinguished conductor to offer only the best of musical literature, and no temptation in the form of ephemeral popularity has served to sway him from his purpose.

Under adverse circumstances the orchestra has steadily grown and improved in quality and size until at last have come the rewards of merit and patience. With a generous support, Mr. Zach can now present an organization of which the metropolis may well be proud. There is every indication of a highly successful engagement, especially since it is announced that Miss Beulah Duncan, a Waco girl, has been engaged for this occasion.

TRY IT! SAYS SAGE TEA DARKENS AND BEAUTIFIES FADED, GRAY HAIR

Mixed With Sulphur Makes Hair Soft and Luxuriant and Removes Dandruff.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is coming vogue again, says a well-known downtown druggist. It was our grandmother's treatment and hundreds of women and men, too, are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is or the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the messy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," for about 50 cents a bottle. It is the most popular because nobody can disagree. It has been applied. Simply dampen a soft brush or sponge with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight and by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application it is restored to its natural color.

What delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifully darkening the hair, they say it produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. Besides, it prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Here, you gray-haired folks, get busy; look years younger.

MAKING FRIENDS FOR WACO.

The trade trip over the Cotton Belt road to communities northeast of Waco that the Young Men's Business League will conduct Thursday should be thoroughly representative of every line of business and city-building activity in Waco. It is gratifying to note the interest this excursion is evoking among the leading business concerns of the city, but the response should be more general, if possible, in several lines.

Such trips if rightly conducted—and the plans of the League for this occasion assure the trip will be rightly conducted—result in substantial benefit to those who join them; they promote trade between the business houses whose representatives thus advertise their merits and stimulate interest in patronizing the trade center of the territory through which the special train of the traders is operated. They supply the opportunity for individuals in the trade center to strengthen business ties already made and to look about them for new business. They get Waco's name up appreciably. But these trips should do even more.

It is not enough—as is done on too many similar business sorties—for the prominent business houses through their agents to make such trips merely the medium for distributing advertising and discussing the benefits of trading with this house or that. Such procedure is a legitimate part of the traveling sales trip, of course, but in the fact that the train conveys representative business men of Waco through the territory that should depend on Waco wholly as its trade exchange there is a deal more opportunity to work for this city's good than the mere advertising of Waco products, merchandise its shops sell, terms its banks give and the attractive land propositions its real estate operators have to offer. These trips should be dedicated above all else to making friends for Waco. It is not difficult to emphasize, in the several towns and cities to be visited, that the city of Waco and its people are heartily interested in the welfare of these communities by reason of its situation as the actual trade center thereof; that Waco is eager to see these places progress and its business men can be depended on to co-operate and assist in every way possible. The greater Waco that is now rapidly in the making will mean incalculably more to the communities along the route to be taken Thursday than it can possibly mean merely as a mart of buying and selling products and commodities at present. Made a shipping port by the opening of the Brazos to navigation, Waco will be the controlling factor in almost every activity obtaining in this territory to the northeast; in agriculture and in manufactures Waco will be the city to which this section will look for the disposal of its products.

The great value of this, and every like trip, then, is to create a feeling of friendship and mutual interest that will deepen and endure. Axtell, Mr. Calm, Hubbard City, Dawson, Purdon, Corbett, Corsicana, Powell, Kerens, Trinidad, Malakoff, Athens, Murchison, Brownboro, Chandler and Tyler are, we are very certain, willing—if they are not already eager—to co-operate with Waco in its upbuilding and theirs. In this way has every city blessed with a progressive, unselfish citizenship made itself a trade center and the source of prosperity for the towns of its territory; they depend on it greatly and are assured of its support in their own progressive projects.

This is the season—and the season must be the year 'round—for making friends for the greater Waco.

May Carson's boys keep it up!

FRIEDMANN'S NEW STATUS.

"The terms and conditions on which Dr. Friedmann is reported to have disposed of his alleged cure for tuberculosis produce a distinctly unpleasant impression. Unquestionably, the medical scientist who makes a great discovery is entitled to profit by it. But if, as is said to be the case with the sale of this supposed remedy, the whole arrangement has been based on dollars and cents, and all considerations of humanity have not only been ignored but deliberately eliminated, we feel that both his country and his profession have reason to criticize the cold commercialism of the transaction."

The Baltimore Sun, from which the above is quoted, will find the criticism forthwith with a vengeance within forty-eight hours after the consummation by Dr. Friedmann of the "exclusive sale" of American rights to the manufacture and sale of his vaccine. When the doctor first came to this country, heralded by adverse comment and detraction in the journals of American and English medical associations and made it known he was willing to submit his treatment to the strictest of tests possible, that of the government through the public health service, we had to suggest only that both the American medical profession and the American public give the man the benefit of the doubt—rather, that they await in a spirit of fairness the result of the government test. Nor did we see any great objection to the man treating the poor gratis, meanwhile. The result of the test is still in abeyance. But we—and, we think, those who have taken like position with us—are compelled to agree with the Sun that Friedmann has acted prematurely in commercializing his alleged discovery if he has any honest desire at all for the credence he originally asked the people of this nation to give his claim until the result of the official investigation shall be known. He has seriously weakened his standing. He is in too great a hurry. He provides for the business end of his venture before it is known in any degree whether his venture is entitled to financial support. He puts his discovery, thus, on the level of the quack prescription. We have, to be sure, read that the institutions to be established for the administering of this treatment will give the vaccine free to the poor, and if this is true "all considerations of humanity" have not been deliberately ignored and eliminated; but this lessens but little the poor impression, if it is not the final assurance that Friedmann is not entitled to belief, created by such money-hungry methods in an unreasonable hurry.

And the Navigators naturally are more at home on the Buffalo Bayou than the Buffaloes.

PATRONAGE PROGRESS.

Quite apart from its local "troubles," the public statement of Representative Calloway of the twelfth congress district of Texas concerning his dealings with the postmaster-general on the question of postmaster appointments in his district is bound to be of interest in the discussion of the attitude of the administration and the department that is such an important figure in the distribution of patronage so impatiently awaited and now so heatedly inquired after in the press. The congressman, if his statement is to be taken as an accurate quoting of Mr. Burleson, sheds a deal of light on the perturbing situation in the progress of the patronage at Washington.

"After Burleson was made postmaster-general, knowing him as I did, I took the precaution to go to him and ask him if original Wilson men only would be appointed postmasters. He said: 'No, there will be no discrimination.' I asked him if he wanted congressmen to make recommendations, and if the recommendations when so made would be followed. He said they would unless unfit men or men very objectionable to the community, or men who were violently opposed to Mr. Wilson personally were recommended. I asked him whether he wanted me to make my recommendations at that time, telling him that I was going to Texas, and he said for me to wait until I came back."

We can come to no other conclusion, coupling this report of Mr. Burleson's attitude with his recent statement that he did not feel under any obligation to appoint those named by postmaster-ship primaries to the offices in question, than that the postoffice department's head is adhering to his earlier announcement that merit and efficiency will be the determining factors in the making of these numerous appointments. It is to be noted that there has been more general commendation of this policy than of the old plan of simply appointing those who had been of the most service to the party in its latest campaign. In the several districts, without other considerations. The Democratic press and the party's public men generally—of course there are numerous exceptions of those who consider they should have a determining "say" in the distribution of offices—have approved the merit, the efficiency system; there has been applause for every suggestion that the lower classes of postmaster-ship should be brought within the civil service. It seems to us that Mr. Burleson's expression as to the deciding factors in his approval of congressmen's recommendations are fair enough; "original" Wilson men, or non "original" Wilson men will not be appointed if they are unfit, or objectionable to the postoffice's communities, or personally "violently opposed to the administration." If this is the administration program, it also seems to us there should not be quite as much difficulty in carrying it out as there apparently is judging from the discussion lately precipitated by so many members of congress.

ARE WE GOING CRAZY?

The query is the Chicago Tribune's. The cause thereof is this shudder on the part of the Independent, "if not despairingly at least morosely." In the opinion of the Chicago writer:

"Is the American mind inherently insane or hopelessly inadequate? Is it by heredity given over to drift? The Independent is not 'ready to think so,' but nevertheless is confident that the American 'is perilously near insanity, as his shocking history of lawless emotionalism, freak religion making, lynching and homicidal habit too well proves.'"

The Independent assigns some interesting reasons, and the Tribune assigns certain interesting matter in rebuttal; the magazine, however, has rather the better of the argument on "cases." Still, in spite of all the misdoings and mislivings it specifies, the timid may be consoled by the recent statement of the prolific public physician and diagnostician, Dr. Woods Hutchinson, that American insanity is not increasing.

"Would anyone (asks the Independent) take serious exception to the following as a truthful list of the great 'interests' which make up our American life? (1) The ticker; (2) the female apparel; (3) baseball bulletin; (4) the 'movies'; (5) bridge whist; (6) turkey trotting; (7) yellow journal headlines and funny pages; (8) the prize fight." The Tribune replies that it might take exception to the arrangement and place No. 2 first and No. 3 second, but it's a fairly inclusive list of interests. "What then? Are we going crazy in consequence? And, if so, are we headed for the asylum alone or are we in the ruck and rush of all humanity in that direction, headed like a bizarre Dore picture of mad-dened devils filling the sky and dropping into the abyss. At the English cup finals the other day (the Tribune cites) two association football teams drew a crowd of 100,000 people. Two hundred special trains brought spectators from all parts of the country. The best advertised ball game ever played in the United States came nowhere near those figures. England neurotic? That is possible. Evidently if spectatorial devotion to athletics is a symptom of insanity we have the English at our elbows on the road to the madhouse and the French at our coattails. If we are to allow an argument to be built up on 'female apparel' we must insist that the indictment travel back to Eve.

"Turkey trotting is a manifestation of dementia, but even the Greeks knew it. A drunken revel of satyrs and nymphs could not suggest much to the trozzers. We'll confess that they're crazy."

(To tell the truth, the Independent gains in the strength of its position on that admission alone—the chief reason for our selection of the above comment.) "A hundred amusements more inane than the moving pictures," however, could be listed. Ten hours of feminized bridge whist may be neurasthenic, but it may be merely because it is shocking to our prejudices that we consider it worse than thirty-six hours of poker. Is the one neurotic and the other heroic? The yellow journal headline is something akin to the eager cry of a good old-fashioned gossip leaning across the back yard fence to bring expectant ears to excited tidings. If we were not neurotic in the days of vibrant gossip we may not be in the days of the screech headline. We may be going crazy, but surely it is with a rush of nations and not alone, and we suspect that our frailties are the frailties of humanity."

If there's any consolation to the Tribune in having all the world for company in the predicted misery, it is welcome to it. We are disposed to think the writer in the Independent has been watching the silly grin on the face of a "sober" business man as he turkey trots with an ambitious dame in her teens or has been gazing on the mummy-skirted fashionable procession for his gauge of the trend of the less than average mind.

New Texas Law

Trade Couplet.

Spend your money with home merchants. That is the best kind of commercial philosophy. — Central Texan (Franklin).

And let the Texas merchants—the Texas merchants of the small towns—spend their money with home, Texas, wholesalers and jobbers. That is a coordinate part of the best kind of commercial philosophy.

Bravo, Bryan!

Remember that interesting and exciting episode of four years ago, when William Jennings Bryan was eloquently orating over Texas in favor of Free Wool, Free Lumber, Free Sugar, Free Hides—in fact, for the unlimited "free" in raw materials? Senator Bailey was taking the opposite view of the Free Raw Material issue—and, I believe, the more logical, but that matters not. The point is, do not the declarations of President Woodrow Wilson, in the tariff controversy now on in Washington, read much like the Free Raw Material declarations of Mr. Bryan, in Texas, on the occasion above referred to? Now, doesn't it look as if somebody is coaching somebody else in Washington? Why, almost any good Democrat could make a good president if he had the best "coach" in the world! Once more! Batter up! Everybody watch the game!—Dallas Democrat.

Mr. Oscar Underwood undoubtedly would be glad to concede that Mr. Bryan has been coaching the president from the outset of his tariff program; Mr. Clark undoubtedly would be glad to concede it; every Democrat in both houses who is sincerely aligned with the administration to keep the party's pledges in this tariff situation would be glad to concede it—if the concession would expedite the passage of the Underwood bill as it stands. But it wouldn't. And he hasn't. Some of us are inclined to believe that Messrs. Wilson and Underwood are rather capable of doing their own thinking and are not leaning together on the incomparable coaching of the best coach in the world. The Beardless Leader may thank Mr. Roosevelt for the appreciation in value of his coaching stock. Before the Bull Moose bunch were howled into being his coaching was a drug on the market.

Brother Jerry.

But, despite some elderly counsel, we venture within hailing distance of the crater. So, we make bold to ask, now that he has it, what is he going to do with it? He has told us, to be sure, that he is going to restore it, but is that a feasible ambition? The descriptions of how it looked before time have two defects, each serious and even salient. One is that they are more or less apocryphal, and the other is that they are vague. We recall, of course, that Cuvier rebuilt the skeleton of some Garzantian animal with only a fragmentary bone for a foundation of his work, but should that classic case of constructive ingenuity embolden our governor to undertake a task so much more difficult of happy accomplishment?—Dallas News.

The News' Colquitt-plagued Jeremiah might have bode in peace and saved his patriotic and righteous voice this single lament had he consulted the news columns of the newspapers—it may be, his own newspaper—for some months succeeding the announcement of the governor's intention to restore to its original appearance, as nearly as may be possible, the Alamo property. He would find the governor has obtained from many sources in Texas, and from Mexico City, accounts, narratives, plans and prints descriptive of the Alamo as it stood at the time of the siege in 1836, some of these authorized by persons who knew the fort accurately at that time. The descriptions are less apocryphal and less vague than Brother Jerry imagines. The massacre in San Antonio is not ancient history; all Texas family history and knowledge is alive with details of it. There is no tremendous difficulty in the way of the governor's achieving his plan, and no comparison between the reconstruction of the Alamo and the exploit of Cuvier, as Brother Jerry would realize readily would he but look into the Cuvier business beyond the mere reference thereto that Sir Arthur Conan Doyle puts into the mouth of Mr. Sherlock Holmes. "Deduction" is unnecessary when there are prints and reports.

Texas Not for Tramps.

Nothing puts a town to the bad quicker than an idle and unemployed population. Empty houses are a poor advertisement. When the price of living was far below what it now is unemployed labor could wait a reasonable length of time for times of depression to pass, but not so now. Labor cannot wait now at the present price of living, a new field must be found at once. When the price of living was low, depression and panic much quicker than formerly. Let us build wisely and well. To build a city and maintain a great industrial and trade center we must have people, and we can neither have nor keep them unless they are profitably employed. Let us have more industries along with the hundreds of homes we are building.—Paris Advocate.

There is no excuse for idleness in Texas; there is work aplenty for white men and black at all times of the year, for the State is still in the building. But the Advocate is wisely anticipating the tremendous growth of the State in population and is advising against the time when work must be found for thousands more men than are in Texas today. The industries must be attracted if the citizens are to grow as they are seeking to grow in population and commercial power.

FULL VALUES HAVE BEEN FIXED

500, against $90,000 for the Texas Power and Light company, which is a liberal figure for the Waco company, in view of the fact that it has a complete monopoly of the light and power business here and is occupying the public commons of Waco on a 99-year lease at an annual rental of $100. In addition to its tax on its franchise, the Galveston gas company pays taxes on ground valued at $78,500 and the Brush electric light company of Galveston pays taxes on ground valued at $28,540. It seems from this that the Galveston companies own the ground on which their plants are located.

Telephone and Telegraph.
The franchises of the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone company and the Brazos Valley Telegraph and Telephone company are fixed at $15,000 each. The Brazos Valley company has the larger number of subscribers, but the value of the franchise is fixed according to the occupancy of the streets and alleys of the city, and the Somers system estimates that both companies must occupy about the same amount of street and alley space to cover the outlying sections of the city. The same is true of the three telegraph companies. They have the same rights over streets and alleys coming into Waco and they occupy about the same territory in putting call boxes in the hotels and business houses.

It is not known yet what percentage of value will be used in putting the stuff on the tax rolls. That is to be determined later by the board of equalization when some idea is obtained of the amount of revenue needed.

Mr. Young's work has been done with speed and with an accuracy that has pleased both the commissioners and the members of the board of equalization.

The adding of franchise and easement values to the rolls is a find to the city that has heretofore escaped taxation.

LEAGUERS TO SMOKE

MEETING AT THE Y. M. B. L. ROOMS TONIGHT TO TALK TRIP.

Live Wires Will Help Get World Wide Convention of the Baraca-Philatheas.

Following a campaign which has resulted in a successful booking of a creditable number of business firms for the trade trip to Tyler which is to be taken May 8, members of the Young Men's Business League will this evening assemble at their club rooms to enjoy a smoker and luncheon. At the meeting last night plans were made to make tonight's meeting an interesting one. Speakers who will talk directly upon the benefit to be derived from the trade trips, have been booked for the evening, and a number of five-minute talks are planned. These are expected to be entertaining and full of information and enthusiasm.

Tonight is regular meeting night, but on account of the luncheon which is planned for that time, the business session of the directorate was held last night.

Among the important things called before the meeting last night was the passage of a resolution assuring the aid of the organization in assisting the local Baracas and Philatheas to entertain the 1914 world wide meeting of those orders should Waco be chosen in landing that convention. A letter from representatives of the local Baracas was read asking that the organization pledge itself to assist in raising an entertainment fund, stating the delegation from Waco did not care to ask for the convention unless assured that they could raise the money to properly entertain the visitors. The letter also stated that Waco was to take a large delegation to Nashville, Tenn., to attend the 1913 world wide meeting of the two orders, and was to make an effort to bring with it a delegation to Waco. The directors passed a resolution to the effect that they would assure the Baracas and Philatheas that the money would be raised for the entertainment of the 1914 convention if it could be brought to Waco, and also to the effect that they would endeavor in every possible manner to insure the convention.

A letter from the Prairie Hill Commercial Club was read in which that organization asked for a date for conference with the Y. M. B. L. on matters of interest to both Prairie Hill and Waco. The directors instructed the secretary to answer that the directors were ready at any time to meet the Prairie Hill business men.

A copy of an advertising booklet of Tacoma, Washington, beautifully lithographed, and full of information, was presented the directors with the request that the names of officers of the league be furnished, in order that all might be supplied with one of the books.

In answer to an inquiry from the National Chamber of Commerce of which the local organization is a member, the directors of the tariff commission, the local organization which has six votes, cast their ballot in favor of a permanent tariff commission.

The resignation of J. G. Wren from the directorate was forwarded and H. C. Rober was elected in his stead.

The president announced the appointment of R. H. Berry as chairman of the finance committee to fill a vacancy, and the appointment of Sam Knight as a member of the committee.

The secretary and president were authorized to purchase a safe not to exceed in cost $25, for safe keeping of records of the league.

Authority was also granted the same officials to close a deal for five cilling fans, four of which are now installed in the rooms of the league, to cost a total of $125, to be paid for at the rate of $25 per month.

The directors also decided to employ a collector on a basis of 12 1/2 per cent.

BOMB BLAMED TO SUFFRAGETTES; THEIR BILL NOW UP IN PARLIAMENT

Powerful Explosive Found in Post Office in London.
Second Reading of Suffragette Measure—Leaders Are Remanded in the Police Court.

London, May 5.—A bomb containing nitro glycerine sufficient to demolish the great building, was found among the packages collected by the parcels post at the southeastern district post-office today.

The police attach suspicion to the militant suffragettes.

The metallic sound of the parcel aroused suspicion among the employees several hundred of whom were on duty. The package was plunged into water. The police opened it and found it filled with gunpowder, a quantity of sticks and a tube of nitroglycerine.

Struggle in Parliament.
The struggle for woman suffrage began again in the house of commons this afternoon, when the second reading was moved for Wiloughby Dickenson's bill which proposes to enfranchise 6,000,000 women.

Vital sections of the brief were as follows:

1. Every woman who, (A) If she were a man would be entitled to be registered as a parliamentary elector in respect of a household qualification within the meaning of the representation act of 1884; or (B) Is the wife of a man entitled to be registered in respect of a household qualification and has resided in the qualifying premises during the period required by law to enable a person to be so registered.

2. No woman shall be entitled to be registered until she has attained the age of 25.

Marriage No Bar.
A woman shall not be disqualified by reason of marriage from being registered and voting.

The bill is backed by several liberals, two unionists and two labor members. While it meets the wishes of most of the men supporters of woman suffrage, it doesn't go far enough for others.

The parties are so hopelessly divided and even the members of the cabinet are so widely set asunder on the question that a forecast of the outcome of the debate is most difficult.

Members, when they arrived at the house today, had to run the gauntlet of women carrying placards directed at the cabinet ministers such as "Traitor Asquith," "desert Reginald McKenna and Chancellor Hobhouse."

In the Police Court.
Great interest was taken today in the police court proceedings against the suffragette leaders held on charges of conspiracy under the malicious damage act.

Archibald Bodkin, prosecuting counsel, in opening the case said the defendants had been constantly meeting. He referred to "General" Mrs. Drummond as a "violent and insubordinate woman." He said Clayton, the chemist in whose possession were found documents describing a plan for burning down buildings in London, had put his brains at the disposal of the women for carrying out crimes and producing what the crown paper described as "a reign of terror in London."

From comfortable quarters at Paris Mr. Bodkin added, Mrs. Pankhurst had sent an article each week to The Suffragette paper either commending what had happened during the preceding week or inciting to further acts of militancy.

The "Wild Women."
In illustrating the control exercised by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst over the "wild women," Mr. Bodkin called attention to her declaration of a truce while parliament was discussing the government's franchise bill. At the word from her, he said, militancy stopped, only to be resumed at her command when the bill was withdrawn.

Referring to the conspiracy revealed in the correspondence of the chemist, Clayton, with Miss Annie Kenney, Mr. Bodkin said:

"It is a terrible thing for a man to prostitute his knowledge to carry out such wicked acts as the burning of buildings and the explosion of bombs."

"The documents seized at the headquarters of the militant suffragettes included receipts for money paid to suffragettes convicted of crimes, which apparently qualified them to be placed on the pension list."

In Miss Harriet Kerr's room were found letters from an engineer named Buckner, living in Hamburg, Germany, offering to sell for $750 a large quantity of pungent powder for use in public places. The powder was guaranteed to cause violent sneezing and tremendous irritation of the skin.

Another Job Too Costly.
A letter read by Mr. Bodkin referred to a proposal by the suffragettes to damage some dock yards in England. "The cost of the scheme, $100,000, probably was the reason why it was not accomplished."

When Mrs. Beatrice Saunders was arrested and searched at the militant headquarters, she attempted to destroy a letter giving details of the investments made by the Women's Social and Political Union in foreign bonds. A number of checks for "very large amounts" were found.

In concluding his address for the prosecution, Mr. Bodkin asked the magistrate to send all the defendants for trial at the sessions.

Create a Scene.
The magistrate remanded most of the accused until Thursday.

"General" Mrs. Drummond and Miss Annie Kenney, who were among those held without bail, created a scene in the prisoner's enclosure by shouting: "We will start a hunger strike," and "You may not see us here on the next occasion unless we are carried."

Drew, printer, apologized for printing a single issue of "The Suffragette" and gave sureties in $5,000 not to repeat the offense.

CITIZEN LAZENBY GIVES VIEWS

Will Abide By the Ballot and Help the School Board in Its Work.

To the Morning News:

The election is over. We have lost in every ward in the city. We made the best fight we knew how to make. We are Americans, citizens of the United States of North America, not Mexicans. We are supposed to abide by that ballot. It is now up to us to help the present school board make good. We are not going to make anything by taking to the hills and raising the red flag of revolution, and the other side is not going to earn any laurels by rubbing it in. We each of us have a duty to perform, and that duty is to do team work for Waco and Waco's schools.

We are proud of our showing. We have awakened public interest in free schools as it never was before. We have increased the vote 1,000 per cent. The vote for our ticket was nearly 400 per cent greater than that ever cast for trustees before in the history of Waco. That being true, we will take our seat at the first table and feast on the expanse with the other victors. Eleven hundred and sixteen votes have spoken—that is 1,020 more than at the 1912 election, hence I say, Here is to the new board, the schools of Waco, and the country that in the past has given us a history that justifies my position.

CITIZEN R. S. LAZENBY.

Tornado Blows Mule Away, Then Returns for Hogs and Chickens

Gainesville, May 5.—Reports reaching Gainesville today state a tornado near Decatur, Cook county, on Saturday, demolished property and blew a mule about one hundred yards.

The wind, immediately returning to the spot where the barn stood, killed many hogs and chickens.

Part of the roof of the residence of A. C. Russell was blown away. Pecan and Elm creeks in Gainesville were bank full last night, caused by a four-inch rainfall.

Good One at Cisco.
Cisco, May 5.—One inch of rain fell here Saturday night. All streams and tanks are full. The town reservoir of one hundred acres caught five feet of water. Such a satisfying rain has not fallen in many years and everybody is smiling. There was no damage by flood or wind.

Rains at Lockhart.
Lockhart, May 5.—Beneficial rains have fallen in this section of the state at intervals that almost assure a good crop. Both cotton and corn are doing fairly well. Cotton, which suffered from continued cool nights, is growing rapidly now.

An absence of weevils in last season's corn is one of the strangest freaks yet met with.

Cyclone at Honey Grove.
Paris, May 5.—The cyclone that swept through the eastern portion of Honey Grove on Saturday afternoon, demolishing several houses and injuring one woman, after going into the air two miles north of the city, again formed and did much damage to farm houses.

Mrs. A. J. Erwin, who was hurt, will recover.

BAYLOR WINS IN A DEBATE

Baptists Take the Negative in Discussing Initiative, Referendum and Recall.

Baylor University won a unanimous decision over Southwestern University, Georgetown, last night in the debate at Carroll chapel on the adoption of the initiative, referendum and recall in Texas, the recall not applying to the judiciary. The visitors affirmed the proposition, leaving the negative position to the Baylor speakers.

The debate was of the highest order that has marked any forensic event at Baylor this year and was well attended by a number of enthusiastic rooters.

When Dr. W. J. Battle, dean of the faculty of the University of Texas, announced on behalf of the judges that Baylor decision was cast in favor of the negative, the Baylor boys rushed to the platform and gave Dixie Hobbs and L. A. Bodenhamer, the Baylor orators, a toss in the air as a mark of appreciation of their efforts.

Speaking for Southwestern were L. L. Evans and J. F. Rippey, the address of Mr. Rippey being especially effective and well delivered. Had the opening address of Mr. Evans been equally as strong there might have been a different story to tell upon the conclusion of the debate.

All of the speeches evinced a careful study of the question; they were well delivered and each speaker proved to be at ease on the stage. Each man spoke for eighteen minutes in the original speeches and five minutes each on rejoinder.

In addition to Dr. Battle, Judge W. C. Wear of Hillsboro and Rev. A. P. Cunningham, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Temple, officiated as judges of the debate.

Pat M. Neff, president of the board of trustees of Baylor, presided at the exercises. Prof. S. R. Spencer offered an invocation at the opening of the program. Miss Wilmoth Frasher sang and Irl Allison gave a piano number. A source for the boys and girls was enjoyed as a finale of the evening, this proving a very happy medium for the celebration of the victory.

Gets $24,000 "Spook" Money.
Washington, May 5.—Laura R. Cramer, a state department clerk, charged with having used "spook" influences upon Fenton J. Hurd, a Greenwich, Conn., millionaire to obtain $40,000, will have to turn the money back to his estate. Mrs. Cramer admitted having obtained $24,000 because Hurd "was grateful for the care of him," and a lower court left her in possession of the money. The court of appeals today reversed that decision.

Houston, May 5.—Helm did not allow Houston a hit in the game today, the only rap that looked like one being a sacrifice by Mowry, mishandled by Ross himself. Mallory was wild and it was his passing the allowed Waco two runs in the seventh, the final score being 3 to 1. The game was called in Houston's half of the eighth with one runner on base none out and two balls on the batsman. The score reverted back to the seventh inning.

The wildness of the Galveston pitchers was largely responsible for their defeat. Harbin went bad in the second and was taken out after forcing in two runs. Helm, Who Pitched a No Hit Game

Ross Helm pitched a no-hit game yesterday at Houston. For eight innings he prevented the Buffaloes from getting anything related to a safety closer than a sacrifice.

When Manager Carson traded Vic Millard off to Houston and secured Helm in the deal, the Navigator adherents set up something of a wall—not that they loved Helm the less, but that they loved Miller the more. Ross has endeavored himself to the local fans, however, with his yesterday's performance. He got off on the wrong foot early in the season, but his class is now evident and his berth will undoubtedly be secure with the Navigators.

Beaumont 7, Fort Worth 4.

Beaumont, May 5.—It was a battle between wild men this afternoon, in which Martina, Veasey and Cy Watson did flinging duty, the first named getting the 7 to 4 decision. Martina hit four men and passed two. Watson walked six, while Watson did not do so badly, just sending two to first via the free transportation route. The locals practically won out in the sixth, bunting two hits with errors by Fort Worth, this netting them three runs. Three home runs were pored during the afternoon play by Eberline, Maloney and Martina.

Brooklyn 3, Boston 2.

Brooklyn, May 5.—James, of Boston, held Brooklyn hitless for six innings today and refused for seven after which the local pitcher got busy with his offerings and won a spirited tenning game, 3 to 2. Moran's miff and wild throw in the seventh left in a trace of tallies for Boston. In the ninth James singled, Fisher started the Curtis and retired the visitors in quick succession in the final two innings. MORNING NEWS WINS SLUGGEST; SCORE 16 TO 10

Two-baggers and triples were numerous in the ball game played yesterday at Katy park between the Morning News and Times-Herald teams. Singles were also much in evidence, the slugfest even developing a mighty home run wallop. The Morning paper gang won out by a score of 16 to 10. This was the deciding game of a series of three—the Morning News winning the first and the Times-Herald the second. The News team wasn't taking any chances yesterday, falling on the ball in the first inning and never letting up until they had chalked nine runs on the board. They failed to score in the second and third, but in the fourth they came back strong and before being retired had piled up a string of seven.

In the meantime the heavy hitters of the Times-Herald had been getting in their work, the two Geisers, Gurley and Barrett clouting the ball unmercifully, Barrett putting one over the left field fence into the lumber yard. Aside from consistent fielding by James at first base for the News, the only feature was the heavy hitting, which, while developing many weak spots in the defense of both sides, still was remarkable in an amateur game.

The next game probably will be played at 3:30 Thursday between the Morning News and the Tribune. Score: News.....800 7X-16. Times-Herald.....303 040-10. W. Boone and Hollifield; Geiser and Gurley, Gurley and Geiser.

In the ninth Robinson's single scored the winning run. Hans Wagner made his reappearance in the game, while Manager Fred Clarke played for the first time since the fall of 1911.

Becoming pleased with occasional alleged stolen visits to the wine cellar of L. Schulzinger, 502 South Second street, for whom she worked, Georgia Carter, negress, is said to have returned and carried away seventeen bottles of fine cognac brandy. Complaint was filed against the woman yesterday and she was taken into custody. It is alleged she has been making frequent visits to the wine cellar of Schulzinger and that on Saturday night she looked upon the wine and liked it exceedingly well, so well in fact that she decided she would like to have it as all her own. She is alleged to have taken the goods to a nearby house and dispatched a drayman and had it transferred to a friend's house.

Deputy Sheriff Lee Jenkins and City Detective Lee Hunt located what remained of the missing liquor, and arrested the woman. The cognac was of an exceedingly fine brand, wholesaling at $1.75 per quart.

In one of the prettiest amateur games ever staged on a local diamond Sanger Brothers' team and the Lumbermen battled for seven innings, ending the game in a tie 4 and 4, yesterday afternoon.

Prestwood for Sanger and Rotan for the Lumbermen both pitched good ball, steady in the pinches and showing the stuff that professionals are made of. Ralph McLendon of the Lumbermen, at bat three times, secured a two-bagger and two singles. Nathan did sensational running when, by sheer fleetness of foot he stretched a single into a two-bagger. Dean handled the indicator and worked satisfactorily to both teams. The game was free from quibbling and the spectators were treated to an exhibition of baseball that was superior to many league games.

To Be Played Over.

By agreement of Managers S. B. Spencer and C. H. Machen of the Edgfield and Lumbermen's teams, the game which was played between those aggregations will be counted as no game and the contest rescheduled at Katy Park Thursday.

There was some dispute over the game, hence the decision. The game that was played was a hot one and the fray Thursday is expected to be a thriller. Both teams feel that they have a shade the better of the other. Lefty Lewis, the Lumbermen's wonderful twirler, is in pink of condition and claims he will have "everything" in the coming set-to.

No date has been set for the playing over of the game which was a tie yesterday between the Lumbermen and Sanger's.

STOWALL MAY BE REINSTALLED

Manager of St. Louis Americans Will Possibly Be Given Berth Again By San Johnson.

Chicago, May 5.—George Stowall, deposed as manager of the St. Louis American league team and indefinitely suspended as a player by B. B. Johnson, president of the league, as a result of Stowall's attack upon Umpire Ferguson, Saturday May 3, may get permission to pitch again this season and also be reinstated in the managerial berth, according to Mr. Johnson tonight.

"The case is not closed," said Mr. Johnson. "Stowall is relieved as manager indefinitely and is suspended indefinitely from playing. He may be allowed to play again and it is possible that he may manage the team again, but the two are separate propositions. If he is allowed to play it does not follow that he will be permitted to manage the team."

The deposition of a manager by the president of the league is said to be the first action of the kind ever taken in a major league. "I cannot recall any precedent for this step," said Mr. Johnson. "I did this myself, according to the powers given me by the league constitution. 'What further action may be taken in the case may wait until I have had time to think it over at greater length.'"

Robert Wallace, former leader of the St. Louis team, probably will manage the club for the present, it is said.

Action Will Be Drastic.

Chicago, May 5.—President Johnson of the American league tonight said that he was not yet decided just what punishment would be given to George Stowall, but that there was a likelihood that whatever action he may take will be drastic. Mr. Johnson said he wired Stowall Sunday that he had been suspended indefinitely and consequently relieved of the management of the St. Louis club.

T. C. U. HAS FAST TRACK TEAM

Material Looks Good for Strong Fight at Brownwood Meet Thursday.

Fort Worth, May 5.—Track work during the present year has made good progress at the Texas Christian University. Although in its infancy, it has given evidence of maintaining a place among the athletic activities of the school. New enthusiasm has been created under the direction of Manager Street and Physical Director Salm's earnest work is going on, although not abundant, the material is exceptionally good and some promising records have been made recently by the squad.

Sprinters are the strong point of the team. Ratan, Bassler, Hay and Melton compose one of the fastest relay teams in intercollegiate circles. All are near ten second men and in a recent meet the four ran the mile in three minutes and 35 seconds, which record, considering the poor condition of the track, stamps them as a team of wonderful ability. For the hurdles the squad depends principally upon Giger and Le Master. Both run them about the same, with Le Master a little better. Le Master's best time for the 120 yards hurdles is 17 seconds and for the 220 yards hurdles 28 seconds.

COTTON TRADE QUIET

FLUCTUATIONS ARE IRREGULAR WITH THE CLOSE STEADY AND LOWER.

Reports of Good Rains and Prospective Closing of Fall River Mills Factors.

New York, May 5.—Business was comparatively quiet in the cotton market today and fluctuations were more or less irregular, with the close steady, net unchanged to five points lower.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of 2 to 3 points and the market sold off to a net decline of some 5 to 10 points during the morning.

Reports of good rains in the Southwest and favorable private crop advices, combined with disappointing cables from Liverpool and reports that certain of the Fall River mills would close down for an indefinite period, beginning next Monday, seemed to account for the decline.

On the break, which carried prices back within 3 or 4 points of the low level of last week, there was considerable demand, which seemed to be partly in the way of realizing by recent sellers, as well as buying here against sales in the English market, and prices steadied up from the low level during the early afternoon.

Rumors that the old crop long interest was preparing to receive further deliveries on contracts and the failure of bearish items in the news to create a more aggressive selling power, were probably factors of the rally which was led by old crop positions. Closing prices were within a point or two of the best. European political advices were considered rather more reassuring and it was rumored that the shutting down of some of the Fall River mills would be for the purpose of installing new machinery.

Private cables attributed the decline in Liverpool to scattering liquidation of the old crop, which was supposed to be the result of a few additional notices.

Houses with Liverpool connections were among those early buyers here, while in the late trading spot houses were buyers of July.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, May 5.—The course of prices was undecided and hesitating in the cotton market today. Bears were able to influence the opening their way, but scalpers preferred the long side temporarily and bought on the idea that more of the short interest would have to cover.

Weather news was called more favorable than unfavorable, but after the early trading it did not play much part.

The opening was steady at a decline of 4 1/2 points on poor cables and favorable weather crop reports.

For a while moderate offerings served to hold the market down and the most active months went 6 to 7 points under the close of Saturday.

Around the middle of the morning buying orders increased and the long side made use of better cable news regarding the Balkan situation.

A great many telegrams from the country telling of replanting, because of recent and weather, were circulated and the help of the market, which gradually recovered.

The market was dull, but steady in the afternoon when near months were unchanged to one point up compared with the last prices of Saturday.

The close was steady, 2 points down, to 5 points up net.

RAIN LOWERS WHEAT

CORN AND OATS ALSO TAKE A SLUMP—PROVISIONS MAKE A GAIN.

Chinch Bug Drowned Out By the Showers—European News Good for Bears.

Chicago, May 5.—Wet weather was the chief influence today in lowering wheat prices 3/4 to 1/2 to 3/4. The close was steady.

Corn and oats both were off; corn 1/4 and oats a shade to 1/4.

Provisions made a gain of 5 to 15 cents.

"Good bye chinch bug," said the traders today, as they read reports of the soaking rains of Saturday and Sunday in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma.

In some parts of Kansas the rainfall amounted to about four inches and Oklahoma fared nearly as well.

It is said the moisture received by the fields will be enough to carry the plant to maturity as well as to rid it of the pests which were threatening during the dry, warm weather in the southwest.

The downward course of prices incident to the weather map was aggravated by the clearing of the foreign situation, when Montenegro's king reported he was ready to give up Serbia.

There was a rally because of a report showing a decrease of 3,666,000 bushels in the domestic visible supply, the total being 47,157,000 bushels against 50,823,000 a week ago, but a reaction followed, in spite of reports that 46 loads of Duluth had been sold to exporters.

Expectation of increased country offerings lowered corn. The market showed a narrow range throughout the session.

General rains caused heaviness in oats in spite of heavy receipts of hogs, provisions made gains. Offerings were limited.

STOCKS ON THE RISE

IMPROVEMENT IN THE EUROPEAN SITUATION REGARDING MONTENEGRO.

Exportation of Gold to Paris Reduces Enthusiasm to Some Extent.

New York, May 5.—The decided improvement in the European political situation incident on Montenegro's yielding and the resultant strength of securities abroad, exerted the dominating influence upon the stock market today.

Expectations of speedy settlement of problems which have menaced the peace of Europe for months opened up the prospect of the repurchasing of American securities by foreign investors.

The situation was one which offered no comfort to the bears and there was spirited bidding for stocks to cover when the market opened.

London, also, was in this market, buying most heavily of Steel, Copper and Union Pacific.

Operations on the long side were carried on more confidently and there was a quick upturn, resulting in gains for important issues of 1 to 3 points.

Action of the market during the remainder of the day showed that the improving prospects abroad had not produced sufficient effect here to bring about aggressive and sustained buying for the long account.

Trading grew dull and prices eased off, although in the final hour the list rose to around the top again.

There were several developments at home which served to take the edge off any tendency toward any enthusiasm.

Announcement that exportation of gold to Paris had been resumed with engagement of $2,000,000 gold for shipment, also was accounted a bearish factor.

This rate of exchange suggested that a premium is being paid for gold and the foreign exchange market was unaffected.

Bonds showed an improved tone. Total sales, par value, $1,870,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

LIVESTOCK.

Fort Worth.

Fort Worth, May 5.—About 7,000 cattle and calves were here Monday for market purposes and 2,670 were booked for feed and rest, these being en route to pastures. Total receipts were 10,670 head, the largest of the year, and close to the record run for these yards.

More than 125 carloads of cattle consisted of steers, the proportions of cows, heifers, bulls and mixed stock being small. Early trading was draggy on all kinds and a late close the order.

Outside buyers came to the rescue of the selling forces in the hog yards and took over a good share of the supply, which amounted to 1,600 head, on a strong to five cent higher basis. Other sales were no better than steady. A top of $8.50 was marked up with bulk of sales making a range of $8.30 @ 8.45.

About 5,500 sheep and goats were offered. The market was a slow going affair from the outside and looked 15 cents lower.

AFFLICTED PEOPLE TAKE NOTICE—The most important discovery of modern times, Electro-Galvanic Rings, A drugless and harmless remedy. Guaranteed for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Aches, Pains, Nervousness, Stomach, Bowel and Liver Troubles, Fits, Cramps, etc. Composed of electro-positive and negative metals. When worn on the fingers, produces a mild current of electricity through the body which purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves and muscles, induces sweet, refreshing sleep, improves the appetite and expels disease from the body. Read these testimonials:

Alfred Hutcheson, Athens, Texas, writes: "This is to certify that I was afflicted with rheumatism and headache for many years. I had tried many remedies without results. I secured two Electro-Galvanic Rings over a year ago and began noticing peculiar results at once and in about one month I was well. I am an old Confederate soldier and lost one arm at the battle of Chickamauga. I wore two rings on different fingers and they have cured me. My wife, who has been deaf and dumb, and they have also cured her. I will gladly answer letters containing stamps."

Mrs. Mary Timmers, Butler, Texas, writes: "I have been wearing Electro-Galvanic Rings for the last few months, and must say they are wonderful. I had suffered untold misery from rheumatism, but as soon as I began wearing the wonderful rings I began to get better. I cannot express the good they have done me."

A. Smith, Texas, writes: "My grandson had an attack of meningitis last July and was paralyzed on one side. He had been down for seven months, not able to turn over or move his arm or foot. After using Electro-Galvanic Rings, he was able to sit up and place his crippled hand above his head, and he is still improving. I praise Electro-Galvanic Rings above all other remedies. I know they have cured him."

Dr. Wm. Matthews, Athens, Texas, writes: "This is to certify that I have known Mr. T. B. Jones, inventor of Electro-Galvanic Rings, for more than thirty years; know him to be a man of his word. I have known of the rings for several years. From my personal experience with the rings in my family I consider that his advertisements do more good & suffering humanity than all other advertisements combined. I have been a practicing physician for twenty-five years. For copy of Bank Letter, 'The First National Bank, Capital Surplus and Profits, $200,000, Athens, Texas, January 7, 1913.' To Whom It May Concern: Mr. T. B. Jones has been personally known to me for more than thirty years, during which time I have had considerable business relations with him, all of which have been satisfactory. Mr. Jones now has on deposit with this bank $1000, with which we are authorized to make good his personal guarantee on Electro-Galvanic Rings, invented by him. Mr. Jones has kept this special deposit with us for more than a year, and we have yet to hear of a case where he has failed to make good. His guarantee is a security of good faith. If he returned promptly at the end of thirty days the money will be returned, regardless of results if desired." (Signed) J. W. Murchison, Cashier.
